From the Editor

It is a real pleasure putting this Newsletter together. With the help of some wonderful people, we have new events for your reading pleasure and activities for you to attend. Highlighted shows for your listening pleasure and the stories behind how they came to be. Also a Community Service Announcement, which is a new piece for this month. Don't forget, if you have a story that has inspired you or you think will interest others, an event that is happening that we can all enjoy, send us an email and we will include it in the next edition.

Now, sit back and relax with a hot cuppa or a cold drink if you prefer and enjoy.

Special Interest Item:

This special event starts at 11am on Sunday 18th August 2019 at Henderson Square, Montague Farm Estate then following the ceremony, guests walk across the road to Pooraka Farm Community Centre for a free sausage sizzle. 'The Kitchen Table' will be spotlighting the event on the 7th August so keep an ear out for that one. And then representatives from PBA-FM will be there on the day to interview some of our veterans to be played later on 'The Kitchen Table' for your listening pleasure.

Entry forms have been sent out through e-mail. If you have not received one and want to have your unique poetry on radio contact Sherina Winton at PBA-FM.

TEA TREE POETRY FESTIVAL 2019

Bringing Poetry to the People

The Tea Tree Gully Poetry Festival is a biennial festival celebrating poetry as a modern artistic outlet, enabling access to an often misunderstood form of expression.

In 2019 the Tea Tee Gully Poetry Festival officially opens Friday 18th October at a special launch event hosted at The Gully Public House and Gardens (Formerly the Tea Tree Gully Hotel) from 7.30pm.

This exciting evening will feature poetry recitals from well-known local poets, an open mic, raffle door prizes and more. An event for anyone who loves to read or hear cheeky verse!

The North Eastern Writers Group will host poetry workshops at Tea Tree Gully Library on Sat October 19th and Sat November 9th from 2-5pm.

The Festival officially closes on Wed 20th November, 5-7pm at Café Paradiso where the festival committee provides a festival overview, and we present prizes to the poetry competition winners.

FEATURED SHOW:-

The Kitchen Table:

The Kitchen Table timeslot has been running for approximately 12 years. Originally the Wednesday timeslot from 1.30-2.30 was called Peachey Voice hour, a show that was funded by the City or Playford which included all good things promoted by the Council. Unfortunately after a number years the funding had ceased. The hour remained and since has been Northern Open Mic and the last 3 years has been the Kitchen Table.

One day after finishing an interview on air, Peter had casually said "being on air with us 3 is like sitting at the kitchen table" hence the name change.

The 3 presenters do not have degrees in journalism or media however come from all walks of life and offer a different perspective on every topic each week.

The show is hosted by Sherina Winton, Joanne Baker and Peter Williams.

I had interviewed Joanne about her poetry anthology and she never left, Peter on the other hand was a new trainee who wanted to see how things worked in the studio and never left.

We feel we keep the local community informed on local news, stories and events.

With empathy and a little humour, OK on some occasions a lot of tongue in cheek. Bottom line we love it and look forward to our Wednesdays.

Kitchen Table is really an informal chat that covers some great topics. One week we can be talking about mental health and suicide prevention with the Hon John Dawkins, the next we can be talking about an upcoming Fringe event with local comedian Joshua Warrior.

The show remains quite unique where each show is a different topic, from not-for-profits, musicians, authors, artists, clairvoyants, anyone with a good news story or event.
